1. Pre-writing: Brainstorm new ideas. Write every one down, even if it seems as though it might not work.
2. Drafting: Your first copy can be sloppy. You can always fix it later.
3. Revising: Use input from other writers to make your poem better.
4. Editing: Check for spelling, grammar, and punctuation.
5. Publishing: Print and distribute your poem. Give it as a gift, or publish it online.
